Song story: I awoke from a dream where a person with mental limitations - what used to be called retarded – was really scared. People all around who knew him, who had helped him before, were trying to comfort him, but he was big and kept pushing them away. I'd never seen him before he had no reason to trust me. But I walked over this teenager, put my arms around him, and started singing this song. THIS song – which had never before been written. He instantly both calmed down and nestled his head in my shoulder. Awakening: Though I was tired, I got up and for the next 75 minutes, wrote out this entire music sheet, working out the exact melody & chords in a key that's easy for most people to sing, instead of the low alto version I sang to this dream man that the LORD brought to me in a vision.
